

Privacy Policy

Welcome to Odigia, an online community for teaching and learning. The Odigia web site and services associated with it ("Services"), are owned, operated and distributed by Odigia, Inc. a North Carolina corporation ("Odigia," "Us," "We," or "Company"). This privacy policy applies to all users, including but not limited to those users passively viewing content as well as those users who register with Odigia.

Odigia may, at its sole discretion, modify this Privacy Policy at any time. By accessing the Service at any time after such modifications, you are agreeing to such modifications. This Privacy Policy was last modified as of June 19, 2013.

Odigia values the privacy of its users and therefore this privacy policy is intended to explain what information we collect, why we collect it, how we use it, and how we store it.

Site Information

In order to register as an Odigia.com user, we will need your email address. This allows us to communicate with you over the course of our service relationship with you. We may request additional information such as your name, telephone number, address, and date of birth ("Site Information").

You allow us to use this personally identifiable Site Information to register you to use our Services, enroll in Courses, and otherwise provide you with our Services; verify your authority to enter the Site and access the Courses and Services; notify you of updates; improve the content and general administration of the Site and our Services; provide you with notices regarding our Services and other Services that you have purchased or may wish to purchase in the future.

Instructors

You also consent to our providing this personally identifiable Site Information to Instructors as part of the Course Information when you enroll in a Course. At this time we will not share anything other than a users' name with Instructors. Users may at their discretion share additional information with Instructors. Instructors will use this information to provide the Course to you. Instructors may have other uses for this information. It is your responsibility when you enroll in a Course to confirm what uses the Instructor will make of your personally identifiable Course Information. Odigia does not control these uses by Instructors.

Third Parties

We will not give your name, email, or other personal information to unaffiliated third parties except with your consent or as otherwise set forth in this privacy policy. Though we make every effort to preserve user privacy, we may need to disclose personal information when required by law or when we have a good faith belief that such action is necessary to comply with a current judicial proceeding, a court order or legal process that we receive or to protect our interests or the safety of others. In addition, we may provide personal information to employees, consultants, subcontractors or other businesses or persons for the purpose of processing such information on our behalf. In such circumstances, we require that these parties agree to protect the confidentiality of such information and to comply with the terms of this Privacy Policy.

Other Information

We may use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, to administer our Services, and to analyze traffic patterns on the Services. We may use cookies, web beacons and similar technology to deliver content specific to your interests and to save your password so you don't have to re-enter it each time you visit. We may also use web beacons and similar technology in emails that we send to you in order to track whether the emails have been opened. In addition, our web servers may track information about the visits to the Service. For example, we may compile statistics that show the daily number of visitors to the Service, the daily requests we receive for particular files on the Service, and what geographical areas those requests come from. These aggregated statistics are used internally to better provide services to the public and may also be provided to others.

Children's Privacy

You must be at least 13 years old to register to use the Services. Accordingly, we do not knowingly collect any personal information from children.

Linking

This site may contain links to other web sites, including though not limited to our payment processor, Stripe.com. Odigia cannot and does not control the privacy practices of any such sites. You should review the privacy policy on any website where you may submit personal information before providing it to any website.

Corporate Changes

In the event that we are acquired by or merged with a third party entity, we reserve the right to transfer or assign the information we have collected from users as part of such merger, acquisition, sale, or other change of control. In the unlikely event of our bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, receivership, or assignment for the benefit of creditors, or the application of laws or equitable principles affecting creditors' rights generally, we may not be able to control how your personal information is treated, transferred, or used.

International Users

The Service is hosted in the United States and is intended for and directed to users in the United States. If you are accessing the Service from the European Union, Asia, or any other region with laws or regulations governing personal data collection, use, and disclosure, that differ from United States laws, please be advised that through your continued use of the Service, which is governed by United States law, this Privacy Policy, and our Terms of Service, you are transferring your personal information to the United States and you consent to that transfer.
